LAKE AND PERRY'SBURG
PRESENTS IN THE MODERN MANNER THE PERRY'SBURG
HIGH SCHOOL OF TODAY AND TOMORROW.

Looking Ahead

To us, the New York World's Fair being held this year is especially significant, for the senior class intends to visit it after graduation. Throughout the year we have planned and worked with this goal in mind.

Just as the New York World's Fair attempts to portray a world of tomorrow morning and not fifty years hence, so do we visualize a "Perrysburg of Tomorrow." In this BLACK AND GOLD we have tried to show the opportunities offered each student and the progress made in developing them. Everyone, in order to fashion some object, must use tools. Ours have been the subjects we studied and the activities we entered.

More and more we are realizing the interdependence of men and of nations. In this "Perrysburg of Tomorrow" we intend to impress the belief that education is necessary to civilization, and that without it we should not be able to achieve the more satisfying phases of life.

In keeping with our theme, we have used the language of the Fair, the "Words of Tomorrow," whenever it was possible. Through the generous cooperation of the art class, which has worked out our ideas in sketches, we have been able to insert a pictorial note.

Robert J. Barber

Dedication

Mr. Barber, a graduate of Perrysburg High School, has been one of its outstanding teachers for eight years.

As an instructor of English literature, sociology, economics, speech, and dramatics, he has made Perrysburg students aware of their potentialities and the tools available in P.H.S. for the building of their "World of Tomorrow." His stage productions, many of them current Broadway hits, have brought him wide recognition.

Mr. Barber has endeared himself to the seniors as their understanding friend and adviser.

It is in tribute to his progressive contributions to the Perrysburg of both today and tomorrow that we dedicate this 1939 BLACK AND GOLD to Mr. Robert J. Barber.

SUPERINTENDENT

E. D. Jarvis

A.B., Franklin College
M.A., Indiana University
Chemistry

The students and faculty of P.H.S. are fortunate to have Mr. Jarvis as their adviser and executive. His efficiency in directing the Perrysburg school system has been an important factor in making it a superior educational institution.

Having entered Perrysburg High School the year in which Mr. Jarvis became superintendent, the seniors have witnessed the adoption of more modern methods of education. The establishment of the shop department, regular health classes, and visual education provided by the recently installed moving picture projector have been the result of the efforts of Mr. Jarvis.

By his direction and attention he has made students aware of the opportunities available to them. As a superintendent and instructor, Mr. Jarvis has cultivated a fuller realization of the importance of cooperation—the keyword in the interdependent "World of Tomorrow."

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The occupations in which the members of the Board of Education are engaged are representative of the citizens of Perrysburg. Mrs. Cummins is a housewife; Miss Kautz, the High School secretary; Mr. Speck is a business executive; Mr. Britten and Mr. Goeke are farmers; Mr. Roose is a broker.

This group of progressive citizens is responsible for the maintenance of the best possible system of education for the youth of Perrysburg. It is the duty of the Board to suggest and approve any changes which they consider necessary for the improvement of Perrysburg High School.

It is for them to decide what subjects, activities, and methods will best equip us for becoming capable citizens of tomorrow. Theirs is a thankless task, but one that pays large dividends.

The name "Trylon," one of the "Words of Tomorrow" coined for the New York World's Fair, is a combination of the word "tri," meaning "three," and "pylon," meaning "a monumental gateway." The Trylon is the World's Fair beacon and broadcasting tower.

It is especially significant that this term is applied to the present senior class. Three qualities characterize them — fellowship, leadership, and scholarship. The Trylons have been the beacon and broadcasting tower of P. H. S. They are capable gateways to the "World of Tomorrow."

Every phase of the Trylons' activities has centered around their goal, the trip to the New York World's Fair. A Thanksgiving sports dance, two marionette shows, two movies, and a riotous donkey basketball game helped to raise the necessary capital. The class also sponsored a series of interclass basketball games. The senior cafeteria, which extended over a period of three months, was the means of earning the largest sum. The fund was also increased by the aid of the mothers, who cooperated in the sponsoring of a bake sale, a doughnut sale, and a benefit card party.

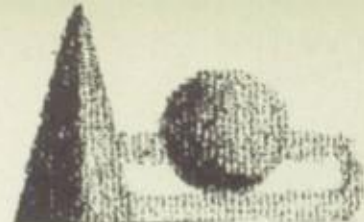

The guidance of Miss Brentlinger and Mr. Barber, the class advisers, has been an important factor in making the trip possible.

The term "Perisphere" is a combination of two Greek words. To the Greeks a sphere signified harmony. The great ball housing the theme exhibit of the New York World's Fair also bears this name. "Perispheres" is a title especially suitable to the junior class, for after three years in high school they realize their interdependence and the part they are taking in building the "Perryburg of Tomorrow."

In their freshman year, as a class of 88 they sponsored a convocation program and a dance. Robert Marriott was president; Robert Dibling, vice-president; Bernard Schwind, secretary-treasurer.

As sophomores the class was in charge of a convocation and presented several one-act plays under the direction of Miss Munger. Six girls were chosen as honorary members of the Girl Reserves. A similar honor went to four boys, who were elected to the Hi-Y. In April the Perispheres gave a dance for the entire school. The officers for this year were Robert Dibling, president; Grace Mills, vice-president; Robert Wagoner, secretary; and Bernard Schwind, treasurer.

Now reduced to 70 members, the Perispheres have spent an active year. The annual Christmas dance and the Armistice Day convocation were given by them. Wishing to aid the Trylons in attaining their desired trip to the Fair, the class held a bake sale and sponsored a movie and two after-game dances. Advisers for the class were Miss Young and Mr. Huffman.

The Helicline at the World's Fair serves as an entrance to the Perisphere. Since the sophomores naturally expect to rise to the level of juniors, "Heliclines" seems a fitting name for them. By their pep and leadership they have won a secure position in the school, and should be capable leaders during the next two years.

The class officers in the freshman year were John Zachman, president; Paul Sargent, vice-president; and Beatrice Kille, secretary-treasurer.

Under the able leadership of their sponsors, Mr. Golding and Miss Suter, the Heliclines this year sponsored several successful activities. In February they presented an interesting convocation called "Black Magic," which was repeated by popular demand at an evening performance in March. In April the Heliclines gave a dance, to which the school and alumni were invited.

The term "Aqualon" comes from the Latin "aqua," meaning "water," and "pylon." It is applied to the fountains located on the World's Fair grounds. The Aqualon at the base of the Perisphere seems to support the entire theme center.

The freshmen are similar to the Aqualon because, bubbling over with enthusiasm and spirit, they are a constant source of energy for our school.

The Aqualons this year held a weiner roast and sponsored a very entertaining Thanksgiving convocation.

Advisers of the class were Miss Berg, Miss Drago, and Mr. Sheffer.

The goal set for the journalism class this year was the complete modernization of the SOME-THIN'. One change was from a magazine to a newspaper style. The use of a great variety of headlines was also accomplished by the purchase of letter guides.

The staff was granted charters to the Quill and Scroll and the American Scholastic Press Association, two national organizations formed to promote better journalism in the high schools of America.

This year's G. R. membership was considerably larger than that of former years, since all senior girls who wished to join were admitted.

The G. R.'s cooperated with the Hi-Y's in giving a scavenger hunt and a school Valentine dance. In December the G. R.'s held the annual Christmas tea, to which the alumnae were invited. Mrs. Kooman Boycheff, a native of Bulgaria, spoke at the G. R. convocation.

In April the G. R.'s had a combination potluck and kid party. The activities ended in May, when the junior G. R.'s honored the senior and honorary sophomore members at a May Day tea.

maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The Hi-Y motto is "Clean speech, clean athletics, clean living, and clean scholarship."

The members have always been chosen from the three upper classes, but it was decided this year not to elect sophomores. A freshman-sophomore club will be organized in the future.

The Hi-Y basketball team was the champion of the Toledo tournament this year.

The Latin Clubs are composed of the students of the first and second-year Latin classes. The subjects discussed at the monthly meetings deal with Roman civilization and its relation to modern life.

This year the clubs formed a local chapter of the Junior Classical League, a nation-wide organization for high-school Latin students.

The Latin clubs joined the French club in presenting a language convocation.

students were given an opportunity to improve their French through informal conversation and discussion of the language and customs of France.

This year the number of books, magazines, and newspapers available to students was greatly increased. With the aid of the W.P.A. book-binding unit, new books were catalogued and worn books were repaired. Mr. Munger supervised the project.

The librarians, appointed for each study hall by the teacher in charge, issue books and magazines and see that they are put in their proper places when returned. It is also the duty of the librarians to maintain order in the library.

Each bus driver selects for each of his trips one person who lives near the end of the route. This person is called the bus patrolman.

It is his duty to escort smaller children in and out of the bus, to get the numbers of motorists violating the law, to keep a record of the bus passengers, and to see that they are orderly.

DRAMATICS

Following P. H. S. tradition, the plays presented this year under Mr. Barber's direction were outstanding productions.

At the Christmas convocation the dramatic group presented "Mr. Everyman," a fifteenth century miracle play.

The Pulitzer Prize play, "You Can't Take It with You," was presented before two capacity audiences at the Farmers' Institute in February. P. H. S. was the first school in Ohio to produce this Broadway hit and successful movie.

Another Broadway production, "Fly Away Home," by Bennett and White, was chosen for the senior play, to be presented during Commencement week. The extremely wholesome theme of this play stressing the need for parental guidance during adolescent years is expressed in the old nursery rhyme:

"Lady Bug, Lady Bug, fly away home.

Your house is on fire; your children will burn."

March 24 was a great success. The program included tumbling, folk dancing, novelties, and pyramid building.

The G.A.A. also had charge of the May Day Festival, an annual P. H. S. affair. The Queen of the May of 1939 and her court were as follows:

Anyone who wishes to help boost school activities is eligible for membership in the

A candy booth at the Civic Association Carnival; the first dance of the year, given in honor of the alumni; pep meetings; dances during noon hours; and the Athletic Dance—these were only a few of the gatherings the Boosters' Club made possible.

CHEERLEADERS

"Sssss—Boom—AH!"

Pep and originality marked the cheerleaders this year. Dressed in their new black and gold outfits, they were an essential part of all the football and basketball games. Except for Marjorie Cookson, a veteran at the megaphone, the cheerleaders were new to P. H. S. sports fans.

This year the band, with the aid of the Civic Association, which sponsored a carnival in the fall, was able to purchase complete uniforms.

Because Perrysburg was named in honor of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, the name "Commodores" seems a fitting title for the band.

The Athletic Association awarded each member a letter for playing at all the athletic activities.

One of the most outstanding features of the year was the concert given by the combined Perrysburg and Bowling Green bands. Other activities of the band were participation in the marching contest at Fostoria in the fall and in the parade at Put-in-Bay for the dedication of the Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry monument.

First Row: K. Muir, W. Byington, W. Redman, B. Sattler, Roberts, D. Byington, R. Marriott, Faylor, L. Finch.

Second Row: P. Kopp, Hennan, R. Morgan, Brahier, Buckhout, D. Weseman, Wambold, Berry, M. Kistler, L. Ashley.

Third Row: Golding, Heslup, manager; Vislay, Cryan, F. Kistler, O. Kopp, McClain, I. Johnson, Richards, Roller, Collier, M. Finch, manager; Sheffer.

A fairly successful grid season was experienced, in spite of the bad start. The Yellow Jackets' standing for the 1938-39 season was three defeats, four ties, and two wins.

The lack of a running and passing attack to match a very brilliant defense was responsible for the defeats. Playing in better competition for the first time, the boys of P. H. S. showed a very fine brand of football.

From the underclassmen ranks, a fairly respectable list of gridiron candidates has been assembled for next fall. Let us hope they fill the shoes of their predecessors in a manner to warrant Perrysburg High a stable position in the sports world.

RESUME OF THE SEASON

DEFIANCE—13

PERRYSBURG—0

The Yellow Jackets opened the season at Defiance under the lights. During the scoreless first half both teams played on even terms. However, the P. H. S. boys, handicapped by lack of reserves, could not maintain the pace. The Defiance Bulldogs forced over two touchdowns.

DELTA—7

PERRYSBURG—0

Displaying a lack of drive, enthusiasm, and every essential necessary for a winning team, the Jackets played their poorest game of the season at Delta.

VAN WERT—13

PERRYSBURG—0

After the setback at Delta, a determined squad traveled to Van Wert and played its finest game of the year. Again the lack of reserves proved disastrous. The Jackets held the Van Wert team, which went through the season undefeated, to the lowest score of the year.

WAITE—7

PERRYSBURG—7

The Waite gridders came to Perrysburg expecting an easy victory. The Jackets disappointed them by outplaying the Toledo team at every stage in the game. Only a lucky break enabled Waite to gain a tie.

ROSSFORD—0

PERRYSBURG—7

This season the Jackets by trouncing Rossford accomplished a feat attempted by nine successive P. H. S. teams. Rossford penetrated into Perrysburg territory only once, and was continually hard pressed to keep the swarming Yellow Jackets from surging over its goal line. Rudolph Hennan emerged as the hero of the game by scoring the only touchdown made on an intercepted Rossford pass.

WHITMER—0

PERRYSBURG—0

A slightly overconfident Perrysburg team faced the Whitmer Indians on the local field. This confidence was quickly dispelled as the Whitmer boys outplayed the Yellow Jackets in every position. Nevertheless, P. H. S. managed to hold the Redskins to a scoreless tie.

BOWLING GREEN—6

PERRYSBURG—6

On October 28 the Yellow Jackets traveled to Bowling Green to renew the ancient rivalry between the two schools. Although the game ended in a tie, the Perrysburg fans regarded the outcome as a moral victory.

NAPOLEON—0

PERRYSBURG—13

The Jackets earned their second victory of the season by defeating the Napoleon Corporals. The most spectacular performance of the evening was contributed by Johnson, who intercepted a Napoleon pass and ran 80 yards for the first Perrysburg touchdown.

MAUMEE—0

PERRYSBURG—0

The Perrysburg boys engaged in the most important game of the season at Maumee. Although scoring threats were numerous, neither team was able to provide the final punch. When the smoke cleared away, the records revealed ten P. H. S. first downs to a total of none for the Panthers.

BASKETBALL TEAM

The Perry'sburg Yellow Jackets entertained a successful season as far as certain individuals were concerned; but from the standpoint of early predictions, the season was disappointing. It was perhaps the toughest schedule that the Yellow Jackets have ever undertaken. Some of the best teams in the state were played, and always the locals came up with a good ball game, win or lose.

The P. H. S. cagers won eight games against ten defeats. The two most outstanding victories were over the Rossford Bulldogs and the Bowling Green Bobcats.

With an abundance of new material for the coming season, the Yellow Jackets are expected to be strong opposition.

GIRLS' INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

INTRAMURAL TOURNAMENT

Intramural basketball leagues are organized each year to give students who are not skilled enough to engage in varsity competition a chance to enjoy athletic participation.

This year there were eight teams in the boys' league and six teams in the girls'. Bernard Sattler's undefeated team easily won the boys' championship. Kathryn Semeniw's team, which won the girls' championship, was also undefeated.

L. Gurtzweiler, L. Schwind, Volland, B. Sattler, D. Emch, D. Scheider.

BOYS' INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS

SENIOR GIRLS' TEAM

First Row: N. Spilker, B. Gurtzweiler, Duffey, McFilen.

Second Row: M. Schumacher, Hovey, Althoff, E. Christman, K. Semeniw, Polzin.

INTERCLASS TOURNAMENT

The seniors sponsored the interclass tournament this year in order to add to their World's Fair Fund.

The final in the girls' division was the most exciting game of the entire tournament. Only a last minute rally gained the senior girls a 14-13 defeat over the junior girls.

In the boys' division, the sophomore team, composed entirely of reserve squad players capably coached by Paul Kopp, was presented the trophy as a result of a 33-30 victory over the senior boys.

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR TRIP

The Class of '39 distinguished itself this year by introducing a new tradition. These high-school sophisticates decided to forfeit the annual banquet and dance given by the juniors for a trip to the New York World's Fair. They began to arouse public opinion favorable to the plan and started off on a series of money-making projects. Student participation was recorded by means of bar graphs.

The first enterprise was a cafeteria, which extended from December to February. W.P.A. women were employed to prepare the food, and the seniors themselves acted as cashiers and waitresses. During this time the class also sponsored a movie, "Too Hot to Handle," at the local theatre, which netted $47.50. Two marionette shows, "Hansel and Gretel" and "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," added $44 to the fund.

The Perrysburg merchants and most of the faculty men cooperated in making the donkey basketball game a great success. Surprising shots and spills added to the merriment. This venture earned $88 for the class.

The entire high school joined forces to play interclass basketball games after school. On the same night the tournament ended, the town merchants played a game to determine the winner of the Little Brown Jug.

Wishing to aid the class in its project, the mothers of the seniors spent one Saturday frying doughnuts, which the senior boys delivered. Altogether, 540 dozens were sold.

During Easter vacation the People's Market provided the seniors the opportunity to make an additional $75 by working in the store for a percentage of their sales. The card party, managed by the mothers, yielded more than $100.

The making of the required basic sum of $1000 enabled each senior paying the small fee of $15 to go on the trip.

INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS

It is generally agreed that if it were not for mass-production in the automobile business, the price of automobiles today would be much higher. It is also agreed that this is due very largely to the fact that finance companies have made it possible for the masses to buy cars.

Most finance companies are now well established and responsible institutions. Their successful operation has made it possible for them to borrow money at lower rates, and now these lower rates are being passed on to their customers. This represents a sound and satisfactory development in the entire industry.
